Bloomfield Oil Fields Change Hands; Boom in Operations is Predicted

Two New Wells Put Down; More to Be Drilled within the Next Few Days

Prospects of greatly increased ejploitations in the Bloomfield oil field, near the Holmes-co line, have arisen in the past few days, with the purchase by Bloomfield men of a portion of the operations in that section.

J. A. Croup and Frank Martin, formerly in charge of the field in the Bloomfield vicinity under lease of the Northwestern Petroleum Company, of Pittsburgh, purchased a few days ago all shallow drilling rights of this company in the Bloomfield field.

These shallow wells in this field average about 700 feet in depth, and have ben comparatively productive for several years. However, for the past year or so only slight developments have been made, due, it is said, to the slump in the crude oil market.

Croup and Martin are planning to start two shallow wells on the B. B. Keiser farm, within the next few days, Mr. Croup stated, Friday.

The Northwestern Petroleum Co. has retained its holding in deep work in the Bloomfield field, and, as an indication that increased interest is being taken in the developments in that section, two deep wells were started, Wednesday and Thursday. These wells are located on the farms of J. J. Uebel and B. R. Keiser, and will be put down to a depth of about 3,300 feet.

Several highly productive deep wells have been drilled in the Bloomfield field by the several companies operating in that section in the past few years and prospects were for an even more profitable production, but developments decreased due, the operators say, to the great expense of the exploitations and the falling off in the price of crude oil.

Aviators Leave in Mechanically Guided Airplane

DAYTON, O., May 24.—Lieut. Alex Pierson and Bradley Jones, navigation engineer, tore out of Dayton at seven a. m. in a mechanically guided airplane for Birmingham, Ala.

The flight is to be made at high altitude and be guided solely by the instruments.

Cincinnati and Frankfort, Ky., were the only cities on the route over which they expected to pass.

They expected to be in Birmingham in time for lunch and participate in an aerial carnival this afternoon. They will return to McCook field Sunday.

When the indicator compass dial shows them they are above Birmingham they will nose down ward and land.

FARM BILL LAID ASIDE

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Farm relief legislation — the McNary-Haugen bill was scheduled to be laid aside in the house late today while a week is consumed in acting on other matters. The tax reduction conference report is scheduled for adoption by the house Monday. The legislative appropriation bill and an urgent deficiency bill providing money for making effective the soldier bonus will be considered Tuesday and Thursday. The $150,000,000 bill for new naval construction will occupy the house Wednesday.

Discussion in the capital today revolved around the question of whether the tax measure as finally agreed to by congress is an improvement over the present revenue law, which is capable of creating an annual $100,000,000 surplus for the government

The question of the worth of the bill has been made the issue by President Coolidge in deciding whether he will enact it into law by affixing his signature or send it back to the cap unsigned and vetoed.

The conference report on the compromise bill carrying the Simmons-Longworth income tax rates, was scheduled to be called up in the senate today by Chairman Smoot, of the finance committee. Adoption is expected with brief debate, if any. The conference report then goes to the house, where prompt action is likewise expected.

SCHOOLS NEED LEVY, LETTER TO SUPT. SAYS

County Superintendent H. B. Pigman received a letter Saturday from W. R. Heistand, Director of Child Acounting, in the State Department of Education, advising that he call the attention of weak school districts in Coshocton-co to the importance of voting the three mill levy at the next general election, in the event they do not have this levy in force at the present time, and in case they desire aid from the state equalization fund next year.

Participation in the state educational equalization fund next year, the letter states, is dependent strictly upon the minimum levy of nine and one half mills, three mills of which must be for current operating expenses over the 15 mill limitation.

Jap Influx to Hawaii is Hit by Exclusion

HONOLULU, May 24—Hawaii's yearly number of inamigrants will be reduced by fully 75 per cent thru the exclusion clause in the new Immigration bill, in the opinion of Federal immigration officials stationed at this port.

Records at the immigration office show that most of the immigrants who arrive here are aliens, ineligible for naturalization. And more than half of these are Japanese.

During the last ten years 37,211 Japanese have been admitted to the Territory and 31,036 Chinese, making an excess of arrivals of 6,175. Figuring in the births and deaths during that period, the Territorial Bureau of Vital Statistics estimates that the increase among persons of Japanese blood has been 37,500.

Up to the present time picture brides have been allowed to enter Hawaii, tho they have been barred from the mainland for some years. Admission to Hawaii was granted because "the gentlemen's agreement" did not apply to this Territory, but to "Continental" United States.

Records show that during the eight-year period prior to 1919 there were 9,043 picture brides admitted to Hawaii.

SEN. NORRIS ACCUSED OF KISS BRIBE

Denies He Offered to Support Ford Bid in Return for Caress from Beauty

BLACKMAIL, HE SAYS

Face of Solon Scarlet as He Confronts Accuser and Hears Senators' Laughter

WASHINGTON, May 24—An angry quarrel between Senator Norris, Republican, of Nebraska, chairman of the senate agriculture committee, and Mrs. E. A. Edmundson, of Decatur, Ala., whom he accused of bringing a blackmail plot against him because she testified he had kissed a girl at Muscle Shoals, nearly broke up the committee's hearing today.

Norris became so angry that when he arose in his chair, Mrs. Edmundson left the witness chair and took up a position behind it.

"That story of yours is a falsehood," Norris shouted, his face made scarlet by the laughter of the other senators of the committee. "I know a blackmail plot when I see it. If you were not a woman this would not be the end of this.

"I didn't kiss that girl," Norris added, his words coming in a torrent that Mrs Edmundson's protests could not dam. "She kissed me. Intimations were given to me that if I did not favor Henry Ford's bid for this Muscle Shoals,

RAIN FELL EVERY DAY THIS MONTH

It has rained every day this month somewhere in the county, according to a survey made Saturday.

The number of days it has rained this month is compared to the number of days it rained in March, 1913, at the time of the big flood

Two years ago, beginning in the spring of the year, it rained for 13 consecutive Saturdays.

Due to the fact that it has not rained steadily, the rivers have been given a chance to recede and not reach a flood stage

RACE TRACK TOUTS AND BOOTLEGGERS WORK AT WILL IN GOV'T OFFICE

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 24—Bootleggers and race track touts were pictured as having been allowed to wander at will thru the government printing office in Washington, and many women employes were "kept penniless by wholesale gambling," according to sensational charges which today rocked the convention of printers of New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

The allegations were made by George H. Carter, public printer of the United States, addressing the third district Typothetae Federation last night.

Carter declared that he personally broke up the ring.

Results of the races were received directly in the government printing office over a telegraph wire operated by the government, Carter said.

Carter was appointed government printer three years ago by President Harding. Carter said that there existed within the printing office a secret, oathbound organization of employes which endeavored to control all affairs

Detailing the efect of the reputed race track gambling in the department, Carter said, "one poor woman confessed to me that she had mortgaged her home and lost all in a mad desire to win a fortune."

High officials of the department not only were cognizant of the situation but participated in the gambling, Carter charged.

"Evidence was found," Carter continued, "that liquor had been distilled in the office of one foreman, either under his supervision or at least with his knowledge.

"A messenger on errands between the printing office and the capital seemed to be engaged in bootlegging. When I preferred charges against this man a congressman whose breath revealed his interest in the case urged me to retain the messenger. Nevertheless, he was dismissed."

Carter accused J. L. Alverson, former chief clerk of the government printing office of receiving telegrams containing information. He also named D. V. Chrisholm, deputy public printer and E. H. Walker, foreman of the press work division as having bet on the horses while in the department.

CLARK PLEADS GUILTY TO CHARGE OF FORGERY

Is Bound Over to Grand Jury Under $1,000 Bond, Returned to County Jail

Emerson "Cutie" Clark, who was arrested early Friday morning by Sheriff Ernest Darr near Adams Mills, was give a hearing before Justice Daniel P Binning late Friday afternoon. He pleaded guilty to a charge of forgery and was bound over to the grand jury under $1,000 bond, which he was unable to furnish. He was returned to the county jail.

Clark told Justice Binning that he gave the keeper of the Public Service gasoline station at Fifth and Chestnut-sts, where he got the bogus check cashed, $5 for cashing it. The remaining $45, he declared, he spent as part payment on a motorcycle while on his visit to Cincinnati.

The check was cashed last Monday evening. Clark immediately left for Cincinnai, returning as far as Conesville Thursday evening. From there to Coshocton he rode in an automobile, stayed at his home here over night and started Friday morning to walk to the home of his brother in Frazeysburg, he told police. Residents of the Adams Mills vicinity recognized him and notified the sheriff.

Last Tuesday the company declared a 100 per cent dividend. Nash held $600,000 stock, and thus received another sum as large It is this that he is to donate to his employes

Holycross Jury Fails to Agree

COLUMBUS, May 24—Hopelessly deadlocked, the jury was discharged here at 3:05 o'clock this morning in the case of Sheriff Frank L. Holycross, tried on the charge of accepting a $1,000 bribe from an alleged bootlegger

The jury, which deliberated 10 hours and 15 minutes, voted 9 to 1 to acquit Holycross, it is understood

Assistant Prosecutor Godown announced shortly before noon today that Sheriff Holycross probably will be retired on one of the four bribery counts still facing him.

It was learned at the governor's office that no definite decision on the time for the sheriff's trial before Governor Donahey on charges filed by the state prohibition department will be made until the matter of retrial in common pleas court is settled.

ASK MINERS TO PRODUCE LESS SLACK

Coarser Coal Needed to Compete with Product of West Virginia and Ky. Mines

CONFER AT DOVER

Meeting Called by W. H. Haskins of Coshocton—Operators and Miners' Leaders Attend

An appeal to Ohio miners to make every effort to improve the quality of their coal, will be made by the United Mine Workers of America of District Six, as the result of a conference of miners' leaders and operators, held at Dover this week, it became known Saturday.

The meeting was called by W. H. Haskins of Coshocton, commissioner and secretary of the Central Ohio Operators' Association.

More coarse coal and less slack must be produced if the mines of this district are to compete with coal shipped from mines in West Virginia and Kentucky, it was declared at the meeting.

Among those who attended the conference were Lee Hall, president of District Six, G. W. Savage, secretary treasurer, both of Columbus; Thomas J. Price, Midvale, subdistrict president; W. H. Haskins, Coshocton; C. L. Terry, Cleveland, president of the Midvale-Goshen Coal Co., J. C. Kyle, Wainwright, superintendent of the Midvale-Goshen Co., mines; R. W. Rutledge and Curtis E. Knisely, Dover.

Bandits' Victim from Coshocton, It is Reported

A report that Charles Smith of Coshocton, had been held up by bandits in Cincinnati, and beaten and robbed of jewelry and cash, could not be verified here Saturday.

Only two men by the name of Charles Smith are listed in the city directory. One of them is a tinner, and the other is a driver for the American railway express company.

Both of them were on the job Saturday, and neither of them had been in Cincinnati within the past few days.

Details of the robbery were not known here. The report that a man by that name, claiming Coshocton as his home, had been held up was carried in a news dispatch from Cincinnati.

There is a former resident of Coshocton named Charles Smith who is now working in an Akron rubber factory.

TRAFFIC ON ROSCOE-RD. TO BE CUT

Since work has been started by the county commissioners to resurface the paved road between Roscoe and Coshocton, the members of the Coshocton-co Good Roads Council have requested that traffic be lessened over that road while the thorofare is under repair

They suggest that the persons living in the vicinity of Moscow use the Rivered to Coshocton, if possible, and that the persons residing in the vicinity of Warsaw and others towns nearby use the road which passes Lake Park and come by the way of the Canal Lewisville to Coshocton

C K Clemens a member of the good roads council said Saturday that it would assist the workmen in speeding up the repair of the road if the traffic were not so heavy over it Mr Clemens said that it was merely a friendly request from the good roads council and not a demand

The Kiwanis Club, Rotary Club, the granges each township and the farm bureaus, are represented on the good roads council in this county

England and France Vie for Control of Englishman's Revolutionary Discovery

BY LUTHER A. HUSTON

LONDON, May 24—Revolutionary discoveries in radio and electric rays are under scrutiny today as a result of the most intensive series of scientific tests in centuries.

Dr. F. J. Wall, of Sheffield University, announced Saturday the discovery of "another death ray" similar to that discovered by Grindell Matthews. According to the scientists, his discovery will make it possible to transmit electrical energy in any direction across space without the use of intermediate wires.

Dr. Wall has applied for patents and is taking up his discovery with the ministry of air.

France and Great Britain are engaged in a race to obtain patents and rights for the new "death ray" of Prof. Matthews, who is a British subject. Prof. Matthews was on the verge of signing an agreement with France when he was recalled to England to consult with government officials.

(Note—The discovery of "the death ray" by Professor Grindell Matthews was announced by International News Service some months ago. At the time, he said the rays could be utilized in defending cities against air raids by planes or dirigibles. The rays, he said, would stop motors, cause fires and bring death to invading armies, while many miles distant.)

Friends of Professor Matthews are confident the government will purchase his device to prevent it from falling into the hands of France.

Professor Matthews claims that

Question Boy About Slaying of Girl Teacher

AMHERST, Mo., May 24 —Search for the murderer of Louise Gerrish, pretty 19-year-old school teacher, today pivoted on an anonymous letter chided her about a "pajama party" which the writer inferred he had watched thru the open window of the teacher's room

The letter was missing when the teacher's shot-torn body was found. Police believe identity of the writer would be an important step toward solution of the crime

The shotgun, believed by the police to be the murder weapon, was located in the home of Ronald McDonald, 17, one of the teacher's pupils He, his brother and another student were questioned, but later released The McDonald home is but 200 yard from the pasture where the murderer buried the body

The anonymous note received by the teacher, follows:

"We watched your performance last night in your pajamas It was kind of you to keep the windows open What a wild dance! Your dance was perfectly magnificent. We certainly had our eyes on you It did not surprise us to see the quiet village school marm dancing steps that would not look good in church We will be around next week

PRESIDENT IS WARNED OF CONSEQUENCES IF HE VETOES TAX BILL

BY GEORGE R. HOLMES

WASHINGTON, May 23—President Coolidge was warned today by Republican leaders in congress that, if he follows the advice of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and vetoes the new tax reduction bill, it will be passed over his veto—as was the bonus—and the party will reap a political whirlwind in the forthcoming campaign.

A quiet poll of both houses, conducted by leaders, who are worried more than they care to admit publicly, has shown that the chances for either the senate or house to sustain a presidential veto are virtually nil.

The Republican leaders who are advising the president to sign the tax bill do not pretend that it is perfect, or that it is, necessarily, the kind of a bill they would have put thru had they possessed sufficient majorities in congress to enact their own views.

Their contention is that the bill as written, represents the best bill obtainable in this congress—which still has a year to sit—and that, unless the present bill becomes law, there will be no tax reduction for another year, at least.

A Republican administration, they declare, even tho not possessed of the powers it would like, cannot afford to take the responsibility for deferring tax reduction another year.

Party leaders are almost a unit in believing that political retribution would be swift and certain in such a contingency.

President Coolidge, therefore, was confronted today with an awkward decision—whether to follow the advice of Secretary Mellon, a fiscal authority, whose judgment is soundly respected, or whether to accept the seemingly inevitable and go along with his party.

The Democrats are sitting on the side lines and smilingly watching the administration go thru the agonies of a decision.

They believe they stand to win either way—if the president vetoes the tax bill, their orators can go into the highways and byways of the country for the next six months, telling the electorate that a Republican president tried to keep taxes from being reduced. If he signs it, they can claim 50 percent authorship of the bill, and, when it is passed over a presidential veto they can tell the country that it was the Democratic votes that made tax reduction possible.

In anticipation of a possible veto, the Democrats planned today to force a record vote on the bill when it is called up in the senate by Senator Smoot, Republican, of Utah, probably tomorrow. A record vote is not necessary for it would be accepted in both houses with very little opposition, but the Democrats want to put all of the Republicans on record in favor of it so that, if a veto should come and some Republicans switch their votes on the question of sustaining the president, their constituencies can be told who voted against tax reduction.

Republican leaders have, also, advised Mr. Coolidge that the writing of a Republican platform at Cleveland, three weeks hence, will become tremendously involved if he writes "disapproved" across a measure that is approved by the party rank and file in congress.

The G. O. P. platform framers are going to have trouble enough claiming credit, or disclaiming responsibility, for the bonus in the quadrennial—pointing with pride, and "viewing with alarm"—let alone being confronted with the same situation with regard to tax reduction.

How can the party claim credit of tax reduction in the platform, they asked, if the candidate on that platform vetoes the bill?

The president has nearly two weeks yet in which to make up his mind. It will take that long for the bill to reach him.

Improvement is Made in Violet Ray Generator

NEWARK, N. J., May 23.—Great advancement in the use of the untra-violet rays has been made possible by the invention of a small device by The Hanovia Chemical Manufacturing Company it was announced today. The new device, like other instruments used in connection with ultra-violet rays, is fashioned of fused quartz and is designed to exclude the emission of all but the most potent rays from the generating lamp.

Announcing the new invention, F. W. Robinson, chemist in charge of the work, said that it would increase the power and efficiency of the ray and make it even more valuable in the treatment of tuberculosis, rickets, hay fever, asthma and all other diseases in which a quartz lamp is used.

"This discovery, upon which my associate, Dr. W. T. Anderson, and myself have been working for some time, has been, frequently declared 'impossible of achievement,'" said Robinson. "It always has been easy to exclude light rays with short wave length, but the opposite has never been accomplished.

"We have perfected a filter, consisting of a definite mixture of three gases contained in a transparent fuzed quartz vessel, and, by combining it with certain gases of known transmission, we have succeeded in transmitting a high percentage of certain small groups of short wave lengths in the ultra-violet field."

Wilbur's Report on U. S. Navy is Before House

WASHINGTON, May 23. —Secretary Wilbur's report, showing the weakness of the United States navy, was formally laid before congress today by Representative Britten, Republican, of Illionis, under instructions from the house naval affairs committee.

Submitted in reply to a request from congress, the report shows that the ratio of the American, British and Japanese navies, supposed to be 5-5-3 is in reality 5-4-3 with the United States in second place.

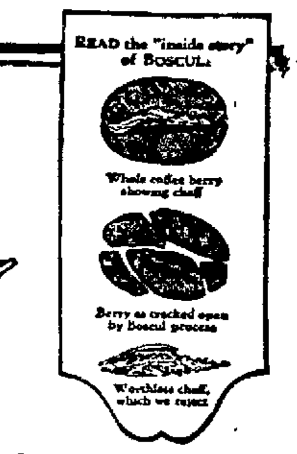

WASHINGTON, May 23 — The condition of the United Sates navy is not as bad as it has been painted the senate was informed this afternoon by U. S. Senator Tale, Republican, of Maine chairman of the naval affairs committee, in an exhaustive analysis or present day conditions.

His report to the senate was in marked contrast to the report rendered by Secretary of the Navy Wilbur, who admitted that the navy has shrunk to the point where it is now 5-4-3 compared with Great Britain and Japan, instead og the 5-5-3 fixed at the arms conference.

"As a matter of fact," said Hale, "we are nearer a 5-5-3 ration now than we were when the treaty was signed."

Youth Resists Arrest; Killed

BRIDGEPORT, Ohio, May 23—Deputy Sheriff Earl Taylor was held late today by Coroner C. C. Hardesty on a manslaughter charge, in connection with the killing of David Okey at Bannock, this morning. Hardesty charged Okey and Marion Smith were shot at without provocation after visiting a place where they had hidden a bottle of liquor, while attending a dance.

William Okey, father of the dead man, was in conference with attorneys relative to the filing of more serious charges. Prosecutor H. W. Mitchell was also investigating.

BANNOCK, O., May 23. David Okey, 21, son of Justice of the Peace William Okey, of Bethesda, was shot and killed today by Deputy Sheriff Earl Taylor, of Belmont-co, who was engaged in a hunt for bootleggers.

The place where the shooting occured had been noted for illicit liquor activities. Sheriff Samuel Dunfee said and he had stationed Taylor there. Early today, Taylor saw Okey and another young man named Smith, go behind a pole near the road and pick up a bottle of liquor.

"You're under arrest," Taylor said, stepping up to them. "Throw up your hands."

Smith complied but Okey reached for his hip pocket. Taylor fired and Okey fell mortally wounded.

A bottle of whiskey was found in his pocket.

Smith corroborated Taylor's story of the shooting.

No charge has been placed against Taylor.

Brookhart to Demand Removal of Atty. Gen. Office from Cabinet

BY KENNETH CLARK

WASHINGTON, May 23—A move was launched in congress today to take the department of justice "out of politics."

Declaring the Wheeler-Brookhart committee, of which he is chairman, would recommend far reaching reorganization of the department, U. S. Senator Brookhart, Republican of Iowa, announced he would demand that the office of attorney general be taken from the cabinet.

The report of the committee will be divided into two sections, Brookhart said.

"First recommendation for grand jury indictment of men involved in [illegible] liquor dealings and second a demand for a sweeping clean up in the department itself. Criminal prosecutions will be turned over to Attorney General Harlan F. Stone. The reorganization will be directed thru legislative action," Brookhart added.

The committee's investigation of the department of justice under the administration of Harry Daugherty has demonstrated that justice cannot be satisfactorily administered as long as practice permits a politician to head this great office," Brookhart said.

"There is only one remedy as I see it: abolish the office from the cabinet and award the office for meritorious service in the ranks, not as a reward for political debts."

Under Brookhart's system, the department would be an independent bureau subject solely to the president, as is the interstate commerce commission for instance.

"I would also place the entire department under civil service and promotions would be made to the higher offices on [illegible] excellent work in the subordinate positions," Brookhart continued.

Brookhart also said he wanted to "kick out" about five of the assistant attorney generals. It would eliminate the bureau of investigation, thus "taking the policing of the government out of the hands of the branch which is supposed to administer justice, not to spy on everything and everybody."

Other leading points in Brookhart's plan for bettering the department included:

High salaries for United States attorneys who would be under civil service and not appointed by the president; decentralization of the Washington headquarters and development of the field force; a complete remodification of the laws by which the department is conducted and creation of at least 50 additional judicial districts.

Brookhart admitted he had little hope for immediate action.

"All this will take time, but I am certain that it is coming and I predict that congress later will adopt the program substantially as I have outlined," he said.

FAVORS ERECTION OF CHILDREN'S BUILDING AT HOSPITAL, KNOX-CO

COLUMBUS, May 23—The Ohio State Medical Association is on record today as favoring the erection of a new children's building at the Ohio State Sanitorium Mount Vernon.

Tubercular children would be treated in the proposed new hospital according to provisions of a resolution adopted by the association at its annual convention here late Thursday.

Other resolutions adopted for the maintenance of a single standard of licensing persons engaged in treating the sick, and favoring appointment of the state health director by a non-denominational non-partisan health council.

The delegates also voted opposition to "fake" remedies and cure. A resolution urging steps to aid in eradicating bovine tuberculosis was adopted.

Million Americans Go to School of Water Safety

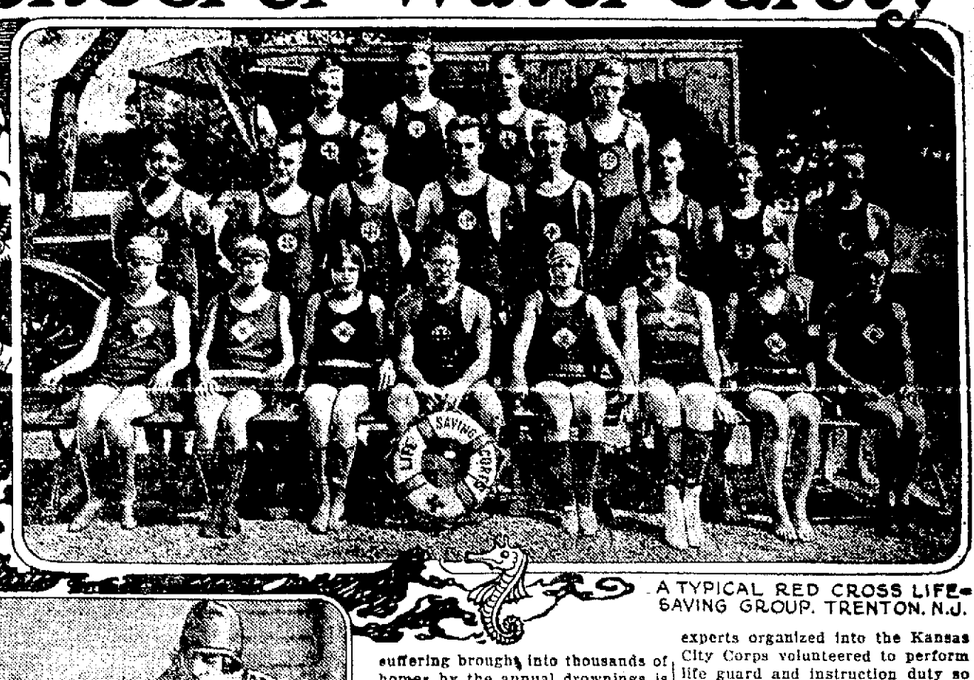

Men, Women and Children Crowding to Join New Kind of Army Waging War on Drowning Accidents Everywhere

POLICEMAN JACK BYRNES of Utica, N. Y., saved seven persons by forcing illuminating gas out of their lungs and pumping in fresh air. Byrnes the night before sat at a lecture on resuscitation and watched the American Red Cross lecturer demonstrate how to use the hands as pumping apparatus to start breathing that has been stopped by suffocation. One lecture plus an intelligent officer in this case preserved a whole family. At Allston, Mass., an ambulance surgeon put Policeman Rogers to work on a woman gas victim, and he had her breathing normally when she was carried into a hospital.

H. P. Midgley, freshman in Furman University, Greenville, S. C., brought his classmate, H. H. Lott, from the bottom of an eight-foot deep swimming pool. The university coach and another student started pumping operations, and Lott came through the experience safely and a life friend of Midgley, his preserver.

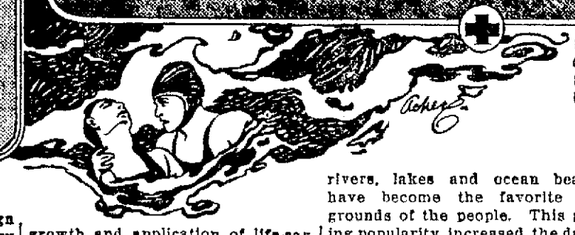

AMERICAN RED CROSS AND BOY SCOUTS LIFE-SAVING CAMPAIGN POSTER.

A TYPICAL RED CROSS LIFE-SAVING GROUP. TRENTON, N.J.

EXPERT RED CROSS LIFE-SAVER DEMONSTRATING THE BREAKING OF THE "DEATH CLUTCH"

RED CROSS LIFE-SAVING CORPS PROVE THE PRONE PRESSURE METHOD OF RESUSCITATION.

Four boys, totally blind, students at an institution in Watertown, Mass., after seven lessons in the school swimming pool, passed the Red Cross life-savers' tests with an average of 92 per cent, amazing spectators with their stunts in diving and retrieving objects and their deftness in demonstrating the prone-pressure method of resuscitation.

In Gage County, in the extreme southwestern part of Nebraska, where the Big Blue River approaches its diminishing source, 232 adults and youths qualified as water-safety experts, organizing themselves into four corps of life savers.

Million Taking to Water.

The Boy Scouts of America, over 600,000 strong, inaugurate this summer a nation-wide campaign for water safety, with "Every Scout a Swimmer" as their slogan. There are besides 200,000 "lone Scouts" not attached to troops and about 140,000 men leaders, so that this movement will reach close to a million, with instruction that is not only based on self preservation, but on the rescue of others who may be in danger in the water and on the land.

Throughout the country there are today approximately 15,000 men 9,800 women and 20,500 boys and girls who have qualified by passing the severe examination required to attain the right of proudly wearing the Red Cross emblem of a preserver of life.

The foregoing facts and incidents could be multiplied a thousand times and still the marvelous growth and application of life-saving practice and procedure in the United States during the last ten years be merely told in outline.

120,000 Expert Life Savers.

Ten years ago, February 1, the American Red Cross started this work with a single member, and the first life-saving corps was chartered in Baltimore, Md., that year after a swimming tournament between Boy Scouts and the Y. M. C. A., won by the latter. With more than 45,000 members enrolled today and a grand total of 120,000 who have qualified as life savers, the record and progress of the Red Cross Corps are little short of amazing.

In the last twenty years, greatly facilitated by the expansion of automobile touring, the pools, rivers, lakes and ocean beaches have become the favorite playgrounds of the people. This growing popularity increased the danger hazards in water sports, giving impetus to the organized activity of the Red Cross to fight to minimize the greater perils of drownings.

Proof of Man's Heroism.

No more heroic figure exists than the gallant individual who risks life in a brave attempt to save another in danger of drowning, for it is the supreme proof of man's ability to forget himself in his concern for the fate of another.

The aim of the Red Cross Life-Saving Corps is to eliminate the preventable loss of life by drowning. Its program embraces widespread circulation of information on water safety; devising of systems of protection, prevention, rescue and resuscitation; organizing of local life-saving corps charged with definite patrol and instruction service; giving leadership to co-operating organizations that possess facilities for carrying on instruction in water-safety methods. This program has been developed soundly and steadily. Principles of accident prevention have been devised, systems of protection for bathers standardized, and a complete manual on water safety published.

Heavy Toll of Drownings.

The development of a distinctively preventive service, the very opposite of the all-too-common method of waiting until disaster comes and then attempting to set up bars against repetition, is the practical example of a Red Cross ideal expressed in its charter granted by Congress authorizing the society in time of peace to train its members to render humanitarian service in emergencies. Every year an appalling list of drownings marks the heavy toll of lost lives, usually of victims in the prime of youth. The distress in suffering brought into thousands of homes by the annual drownings is awakening the American people out of indifference toward these poignant losses, with the result that in all walks of life very influential support is being accorded the life-saving program.

Recognized by Government.

Recognition after the years' experiences which proved the soundness of the Red Cross purpose to carry out its work of prevention and preservation encourages the belief that in another ten years it will have grown tenfold. The Government has put its seal of approval upon life saving by using the course at the West Point Military Academy and the Annapolis Naval Academy, also by affording instructing under Red Cross experts at camps of the regular army, the reserve officers and the military training centers for civilians.

Men's and women's colleges and State universities, equipped with swimming pools, the summer camps of private schools, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Campfire Girls, Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., boys' clubs, high schools in large cities, athletic clubs and local organizations interested in general community safety measures, are actively supporting this service of training in water safety and life saving under Red Cross auspices in every State.

Army of Women Swimmers.

Women's aroused interest in water safety has mobilized an army of swimmers in girls' camps, playground swimming pools, women's colleges and various institutions moving forward to attain a practical accident-proof standard. It is a fact that in this day of co-education the young women's all-around training is considered incomplete if swimming is not a part of their physical education.

Kansas City, Mo., offers an outstanding example. The 300 women experts organized into the Kansas City Corps volunteered to perform life guard and instruction duty so the city could maintain a public bathing resort where all the children might enjoy themselves in safety. It is the natural impulse of women to protect the children, which inspires the belief among life-saving authorities that the day is not far distant when America's children will learn to swim as naturally as they learn to walk.

Backed by Whole Country.

The future of life saving is bright with promise and the Red Cross looks hopefully to the time when every unprotected waterfront will have its corps of members expertly trained in rescue and resuscitation. The hearty aid of Red Cross Chapters in this aim is a great influence in carrying this service to the American people.

H. F. Enlows, National Director of Life Saving, says:

"The maintenance and development of the Red Cross Life-Saving Corps is a distinctly preventive service. It has justified itself through its accomplishments over the period of ten years. It is growing out of a lusty infancy into a stalwart manhood that cannot be denied because it is the expression of common sense actions leading to the fullness of life. Nowhere has it been opposed; everywhere it has been enthusiastically accepted and endorsed. Its future is secure because life saving along water courses has been built upon a sound foundation, and its increasing structure is firmly laid in procedure and method tested in the crucible of practical experience. Every individual who will may freely take of this instruction—and that there are thousands upon thousands who do so will to learn is recorded in the history of the Red Cross Life-Saving Service covering the past decade."

Sun Bathing is Recommended by Famous Surgeon

LONDON, May 24—"Get to the sun where and when you can" is the advice given by Sir Herbert Barker, famous bloodless surgeon.

"I have just returned from the most gloriously beneficial holiday I have ever had," says Barker. "I have spent two months in the sun at Montego Bay, Jamaica, bathing practically all day in the sea, and am literally a new man. My outlook of life is altered and I am literally stored with warmth and energy.

"I believe that sun bathing will be one of the great curative or restorative treatments of the future in medical science.

"It will not surprise me if future governments provide sun baths for citizens as they now do open spaces.

"City dwellers need something of this kind to make them really well and happy."

BIBLE READING REQUIRED IN KENTUCKY SCHOOLS

That "the teacher in charge shall read, or cause to be read, a portion of the Bible daily in every classroom or session room of the common schools of the state of Kentucky, in the presence of the pupils therin assembled," is the gist of a bill recently signed by the Governor of Kentucky. No pupil will be required to read the Bible against the wish of his parents or guardians. Failure of any teacher to carry out the provisions of this bill will be cause for revoking his certificate.

Attorney Found Guilty by Jury

MANSFIELD, May 24.—A verdict of guilty was returned by the jury in the case of the state against Attorney J. E. Ladow, tried on the charge of perjury. The case lasted two weeks.

Ladow was indicted by the grand jury on a charge of perjury after he had testified in one of the cases in which stock of the old Mansfield Rubber Co., was involved. He was accused by the Chase estate of taking 60 shares of stock belonging to B. L. Chase, deecased, without paying for it. Ladow claimed he had given a check for the stock. The case will be appealed.

BURNS HEALED WITHOUT LEAVING A SCAR

My sister was burned last winter when putting coal oil on a deadened fire and the flames burst out into her face. We used nothing but San Cura and didn't even have a physician and in almost an incredible short time her face was perfectly healed without a scar. It is the finest thing for burns that I have ever seen. Have also used it for other things. Just lately an infected toe and immediately it was healed—Hattie S. Pittts, 18 Iowa Circle, Washington, D. Women to Fill Active Role in G. O. P. Sessions

NEW YORK, May 24 — One thousand women will attend the Cleveland convention, 350 to 400 of whom will be delegates and alternates, according to the estimate of Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton, vice-chairman of the Republican National Committee. Ninety-three full fledged women delegates, with full voting powers, already had been listed at National Republican Headquarters when this estimate was made, and ten States had not yet sent in their reports. In addition, there will be about 250 women delegates.

The associate members of the Republican National Committee and members of the Women's National Republican Executive Committee and other prominent women will also attend the convention. Among them will be Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird, of Masachusetts; Mrs. Medill McCormick, of Illinois; Mrs. Corinne Roosevelt Robinson and Mrs. Charles H. Sabin, of New York. Women legislators are to have a prominent part in the convention. Mrs. Nettie M. Clapp, of Cleveland, is chairman of the Women's Advisory Committee for Cleveland, which is arranging for the entertainment of the women delegates and visitors.

MEET JUNE 4

A meeting of the National Republican Committee is scheduled for June 4, preceding the convention. Among the prominent women who will not be delegates, but will have an immense influence with the delegates, are Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, Mrs. Bessie Parker Brueggeman, Miss Sarah Schuyler Butler, Miss Betsey Edwards and Miss Marion Parkhurst.

Elaborate arrangements are being made for the entertainment of the women. The auditorium in which the delegates will be seated is a new structure, housing 1,400 people. The seats are all comfortable, and the stage can be seen from every seat. There are no posts or pillars. Opening off the auditorium are a number of chambers for committee rooms. The assistant sergeants-at-arms will come from various States, and the ushers all will be from Cleveland. There will be women in both groups.

PLAN ENTERTAINMENT

Steamers have been arranged to take the delegates on sails across Lake Erie. There will be special performances in two of the theatres, and residents of Cleveland are furnishing automobiles to take the visitors sightseeing. The national headquarters for women will be with the men's headquarters, in the new Federal Reserve Bank, which has just been completed, and which is as yet unoccupied, and was offered for headquarters for national, State and local committees. This bank is but two blocks from the auditorium where the convention sessions will take place.

At the women's headquarters will be Mrs. Leonard G. Woods, of Pittsburgh, second vice-chairman of the Republican National Committee, and Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton, vice-chairman of the Republican National Committee.

AMERICANS INVITED TO ITALIAN ATHLETIC MEET

The Twelfth International Federal Athletic Meet will be held in Florence, May 29 to June 2, and Victor Emmanuel, King of Italy, will be the high patron of the committee of honor, according to an official report from Earl Brennan, American vice consul at Florence. Arrangements have been made for housing the athletes in military and academic buildings. Young ladies who participate will be accomodated in private schools and seminaries. It is hoped that America will be represented by athletes and by visitors. School Life.

From The Border-Line

IT is interesting to note that the United States is not the only land that has difficulties from clash of tongues. In a general way, of course, everyone knows that Europe is a modern Babel. Quite generally, however, we think of old continental boundary lines as demarking distinct peoples, of kindred blood, tongues and pedigree. When we pause, we realize that such a view is utterly fallacious.

It takes such a news cable as has just come from France to emphasize that the United States does not have a monopoly on the world's embarrassing situations growing out of the confusion of tongues. We may have thot that when we send a man to the state legislature who can verily not speak the English language, or a representative to Washington who can make himself understood with difficulty, we have reached the fringe of the ridiculous. But France has bettered our best record, having elected a deputy who speaks no French, only German.

Of course the new deputy comes from Alsace, that disputed province of many conflicts, that strange frontier of the races that has sent so many fine citizens to the United States. Perhaps the new deputy will be greeted in the chamber as a living example of the long years of suppression of everything French at the hands of the Germans. Perhaps he knows a little more about the French tongue than he is given credit for by the alert correspondents. Judgment may well be suspended until it is recorded whether he votes "ja, ja," or "oui, oui" when the vote is polled.

The Fear Of War

THERE has been opposition to the exploitation and perfection of the aeroplane and dirigible because of their diabolical destructiveness in war. For fear of easier invasion from continental Europe, England has stubbornly resisted the tunneling of the English channel even at the cost of commercial loss. Possible naval advantages to other countries long deferred the construction of the Panama Canal.

Trans-continental railroads were impossible in Europe and Asia for generations because of international distrust. In all this antagonism to the quickening and extending of world communication there is seen the fear of war. Economic security is sacrificed to national security.

It is lamentable that the nations can not proceed in the development of air transportation without being retarded or deviated by preparation for or threats of war in the air. Accelerated transportation and communication are vital factors in national and world economic advancement. Than the airship nothing has promised more for this important acceleration.

The World war indelibly stamped all ships of the air as instruments of war. It will take years before they are again universally recognized as vehicles of peace. In the interim the progress of air travel will be slow. The degenerating influence of war is therefore seen to operate even in peace. In the course of years will the world powers come to realize that air transportation bridges the distance in favor of those contacts that go far to eradicate misunderstanding between men and nations?

"Congressional Comlexity"

UNDER the above caption The Indianapolis News, independent Republican, in a well reasoned and moderate editorial, discusses the many complexities in which Congress has involved the Republican party on the eve of a presidential campaign.

That President Coolidge is the chief victim of the strange antics of Congress may be readily seen. To a certain extent he has himself to blame. The alienation of the progressive element among the Republicans in Congress has also had much to do with the difficult and unusual situation which the party now faces. For months it has been the fixed habit of Republican congressional spell binders to laud the President with their mouths and then to defy and discredit him with their votes and deeds.

It is this situation which The News so carefully discusses and we of Ohio need only have in mind Ohio when the following editorial mentions Indiana. For the Ohio delegation in the lower house and the two Ohio Senators have been quite as inconsistent as regards their wordy speeches and their more significant votes as the Indiana Representatives and Senators. We quote the following from The News:

> President Coolidge is now confronted with the problem of making the best of a bad bargain—a bargain made for him by a house and a senate that evidently were thinking more about the campaign than they were about the conservative management of the government's affairs. The President will have before him soon the revenue bill. Since the conditions which the bill was originally [illegible] to meet have been completely changed by the enactment of the bonus law, it is difficult to understand what good can now come from further backing and filling and finally enacting a law that will do none of the things that were at first intended.
>
> Secretary Mellon, whose [illegible] is not denied, made a study of the government finances and laid out a plan that would have meant a safe reduction in taxes. The President approved this plan and the tax measure was drawn accordingly. Now the whole thing has virtually gone into the discard. The bonus bill which will mean a large increase after this year in government expenditures, has been adopted, and the revenue [illegible] Mellon estimated a surplus [illegible] Now [illegible] 1924 provided money [illegible] that something [illegible] worked out but the public [illegible] many disappointments, and [illegible] with congress.
>
> Within a few weeks the R[illegible] hold a convention in Cleveland [illegible] Vice-President Coolidge has [illegible] by the rank and file Republicans [illegible] the states [illegible] whelmingly for him. [illegible] had they lacked faith [illegible]
>
> Men who were elected [illegible] in congress will be [illegible] them are candidates for [illegible] districts praising the great [illegible] nominee, and they can make [illegible] talk about constructive statesmanship [illegible] At this juncture, if somebody [illegible] gressmen have done to support [illegible] going to be interesting [illegible]
>
> There has been [illegible] publican senators, owning La Follette [illegible] combined with the Democrats [illegible] policies, particularly as concerns [illegible] pear that they are sinners above [illegible] same with the Japanese question. [illegible] everything in his power to bring about [illegible] of the Japanese problem. The leader of [illegible] opposition is Senator Lodge who made what was [illegible] "strong" speech in opposition to the [illegible] of the President and secretary of state. Lodge [illegible] opposition leader when he proposed to the senate [illegible] a world court as a substitute for the plan favored by President Coolidge and his predecessor, which has reposed for fourteen months in the committee of which Lodge is chairman.
>
> The President has appealed to the more reasonable senators of both parties for support in his effort to get a postponement of exclusion in order that diplomatic negotiations may be conducted with Japan. The country would rejoice to see co-operation between Republicans and Democrats in congress in support of fair and rational policies, where no question of party principle was involved. On this Japanese question there seems to be small ground for hope that congress will change its attitude, and yet there must be many senators and representatives who know that the President is right. It is not a choice between exclusion and nonexclusion, but between methods of getting exclusion.
>
> But the immediate question is whether the President can count on the support of the regular Republicans in congress any more than on that of the more flighty brethren. He has not had it in connection with his world court, pension and Japanese policies, and has been driven or led to look for bipartisan support, which thus far has failed. It is hard to see how Lodge and the others can criticise Brookhart, Norris and their associates without condemning themselves on the same charge.

Personal Finances of the Presidents

CALVIN COOLIDGE

The Quiet Office Holder Who Lived Modestly

In a land where snow lies upon the ground five or six months in the year, twelve miles from any railroad, fifteen miles from any city or town, Calvin Coolidge was born of old colonial stock on Independence Day, 1872. The President Arthur was born in Vermont, his parents were not New England Yankees, but President Coolidge is a genuine Green Mountain boy of Plymouth-by-the-Notch where farmers raise hay, potatoes, cabbage and good horses and cows. His father owned three mountain-valley farms, worth with their buildings, then as now, in all only a few thousand dollars. Calvin is an only child.

The President is a graduate of a New England college, Amherst, and a lawyer. In 1905, he married a Green Mountain girl, Grace Goodhue, a teacher in Northampton, Massachusetts. He has held one and another public office for a quarter of a century. The Governor of Massachusetts receives $10,000 a year, he Vice-President of the United States, $12,000 a year. In all, the President, until August 22, 1923, when he succeeded President Harding, had earned in public salaries something like $70,000. His law practice has brot something more. There also have been some paid published articles and public addresses.

The Coolidges have two sons now in their teens.

The Presidential salary is $75,000.

Such has been the thrifty home-training of the President and such is his personally quiet disposition that he has saved some money for the future of his family.

He is a jurist, a student of political science, a lawyer of scholarship rather than a business man practicing law in order to acquire a fortune.

John Coolidge, father of the President, is the third man to see his son so established. The others were John Adams and George T Harding.

Home economics and agricultural classes co-operate at Trousdale, Kans. The boys killed and dressed a hog for a farmer, and the girls studied the cuts of meat in a very practical way.

Use of Cigarets Shows Increase

WASHINGTON, May 24—Cigaret production in April totalled 5,322,264,000 nearly a billion more than in April, 1923, the bureau of internal revenue announced today.

Production of all other tobacco articles fell off, federal tax having been paid on 501,422,000 cigars compared to 532,533,000 in April last year.

Miscellaneous tax collections totalled $14,261,000 in April, compared with $11,059,000 the same month last year, the bulk of the collection was on automobiles and accessories, totalling $12,900,000 this April, against $9,000,000 the same month last year.

The candy tax showed an increase from $932,006 to $1,006,000. Use of photographing films in April judging by the tax was five times greater than in April 1923.

Smiles

"What a serious face she has!" "I'm -Well, you could hardly expect her to enjoy such a face as that."

"Dubleigh has a sovereign contempt for anybody who doesn't know as much as he does."

"I should think he would."—Boston Transcript.

The Gourmet—I tell you, I certainly am fond of Swiss cheese sandwiches.

The Dyspeptic—Oh, that's the cheese with the holes in it. Very indigestible.

The Gourmet—They are eh? Well, I never eat them.

Ping—Were you in Rome while abroad?

Pong—Sure thing.

Ping—Did you do as the Romans do while there?

Pong—Not on your life. I took my bath every morning regular.

She—He's just crazy to get into society.

He—He certainly is, if he could just as easily stay out.

Suzanne in the Louvre art gallery—There, that is the famous Venus of Milo at last. Isn't it splendid?

Dorothy—Humph. Her waist and bust measures are twice too big. No corset made would fit her.

He—There is nothing like experience, after all. She is our greatest teacher.

She—And there is no holding back her salary either.

"The milk you've been selling me," complained the young housekeeper, "is watery. Now, I—"

"Pardon me, ma'am," interrupted the foxy milkman, "I was jest goin' to tell you about that. You see, the cows got into the salt bin last week an' it made 'em awful thirsty, but it won't never occur again."

Jack—Was the church garden party a success?

Julia—Well, I worked hard enough. I ate ice cream with every young man on the grounds.

King Victor III Promises Relief to the Workers

ROME, May 24—King Victor Emanuel III, in a speech from the throne today opening the first session of the new parliament, promised efforts by the government to improve the conditions of the workers.

The possibility of setting up technical councils to co-operate with parliament was suggested.

Referring to armaments and reparations, the king said—

"Italy cannot remain disarmed among nations that are armed.

"Italy is ready to help reach an equitable solution of reparations. She is disposed to make sacrifices to guarantee the peace of Europe, provided her own interests are safeguarded."

Ohio Fed'n of Women's Clubs End Convention

TOLEDO, May 23—Installation of officers and adoption of resolutions featured the closing session of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs here today.

Canton was the leading contender for the convention next year, but final decision of the matter will be made by the executive committee and officers.

The southeast district, of which Mrs. Edwin Sayre, of Athens, is vice president, was awarded the banner emblematic of victory in the contest for the highest percentage of new clubs affiliating.

Lives of Seven Lost in Flames

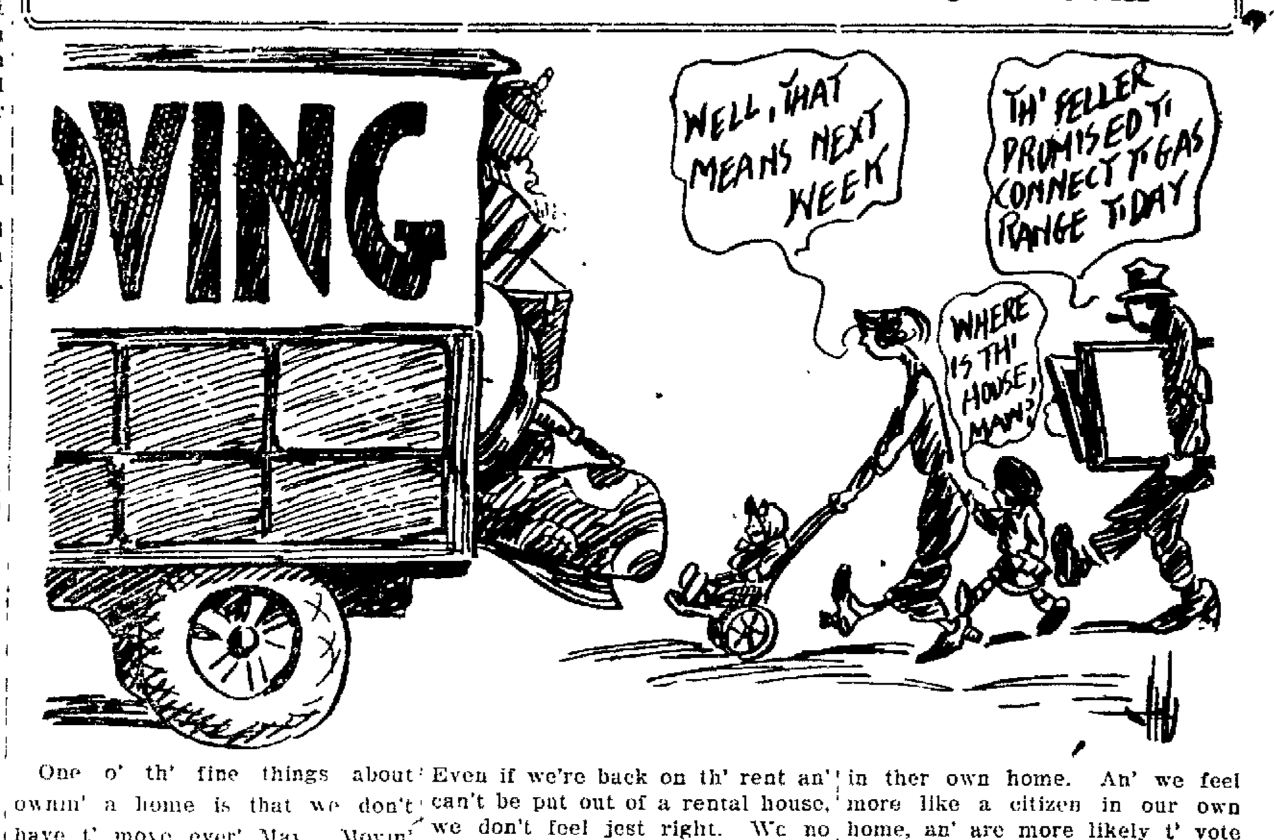

PONKAPOAG, Mass., May 24—Seven persons were burned to death in a fire which destroyed their homes here early today.

Five children of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McLarie perished. McLarie had gathered his family in a room on the second story with the intention of lowering them separately to the ground. He was endeavoring to do this with his wife when she threw her arms about his neck and dragged him thru the window with her. He was unable to return for the children.

Mrs. Vincent Datamizo, who, with her husband and three children, occupied another section of the dwelling, perished in the flames with her three-year-old daughter, Volinda.

The other victims were Frances McLarie, 12, Beatrice McLarie, 10, Ria McLarie, 9, and five-year-old twins Leo and Leona.

ABE MARTIN On Movin'

One o' th' fine things about ownin' a home is that we don't have t' move ever' May. Movin' 'll ruin th' sweetest disposition that ever wuz, t' say nothin' o' th' davenport, an' dinin' room table. Leavin' ole neighbors an' havin' t' break in new ones is another drawback. Rental houses with 3 cent wall paper, under size furnaces, an' sawed off bath tubs, an' rattlin' windows, an' snoopin' landlords, are harmful t' connubial bliss. No wife ever feels like goin' ahead in a rented house, an' th' average husband is too busy t' devote three or four months gittin' a leak in th' roof fixed, or a lavatory put back in runnin' order. If ther's anything little children hate its a rented house where they have t' be careful all th' time, an' we'd hate t' own a rental house and have t' despise little children. Even if we're back on th' rent an' can't be put out of a rental house, we don't feel jest right. We no sooner git settled down an' used t' a rental house an' git th' budget adjusted t' new conditions till th' rent is raised. An' somebuddy wants t' go thro' a rental house all th' time with a view t' buyin' it, an' ever' time we move out of a rental house, we're about thirty per cent poorer than we wuz when we moved in. We never seem t' be gittin' anywhere in a rented house, an' ever' time we git all worked up t' buy somethin', we think o' th' rent an' have t' give it up. No matter how we're taxed an' how much it costs t' maintain a home, when we plant a geranium, we know its ours, an' we kin paint th' house any color we please, an' we feel mighty more independent ever' way. Little children don't have to be nagged half as much in ther own home. An' we feel more like a citizen in our own home, an' are more likely t' vote intelligently an' feel like we've got a license t' raise h—ll about th' way th' town's run. It's jest awful t' be gittin' ready t' move all th' time, wonderin' if th' rugs 'll fit, an' havin' t' leave a lilac we've planted, an' gittin' balled up in th' city directory, an' havin' th' phone changed, an' th' kitchen range connected, an' wonderin' where we're goin' t' put th' pianner. Homes are expensive, but we don't believe anybuddy ever felt right in a rented house, ever felt established, or settled down. We don't believe in runnin' in debt unless it's fer a home, an' ever, husband owes it to his wife t' involve himself fer a home. Next t' children, nothin' 'll hold a couple t'gether like a home, 'specially if th' deed's made out jointly.

The Radio Column

Timely Tips and Suggestions on the Latest Diagrams and Hookups—Simplified

TUNING SKILL NEEDED FOR DISTANCE

Be Governed by Results and Tuning in Is Easily Done

On your first radio set you may have all connections correctly made, have a good aerial and ground installation, and still be disappointed in results. Local stations will come in with excellent volume but not a sound do you hear from the broadcasting in a distant city.

The distance stations will come in if you are able to receive the more powerful stations with excellent volume. It is merely a matter of fine tuning.

A certain amount of skill is necessary in order to tune in the weaker and more distant stations. Combined with the skill a knowledge of the tuning characertistics of your receiver is also of importance.

A thoro knowledge of your detector tube is another important point to be considered in tuning. The audio frequency amplifier will automatically increase the volume of sound that is furnished it by the detector tube, but careful adjustment must be made in order that the detector tube will operate at its best.

Before blaming the circuit or your aerial try different voltages of B battery from 16 to 25 on your detector tube. Try reversing the filament connections on your socket and try changing the position of the rheostat. If it is now in the positive lead, try the negative.

Tuning experience and familiarity with your receiver can only be gained from experience, and this experience cannot be obtained in a few evenings.

In tuning be governed by results. If turning a dial in one direction clears up a signal or improves the volume keep on turning in that direction until the maximum volume is secured. If, on the other hand, turning the dial in one direction reduces the signal the proper action to take is to return the dial to its former setting and try it in the other direction.

This sounds like superfluous advice but it is really the whole story of tuning a radio receiving set. For the first few evenings tuning will probably be a slow process but you should soon become accustomed to the function of each dial and learn the approximate settings at which stations come in at their best.

HOUSEHOLD WORK DONE UNDER GOOD CONDITIONS

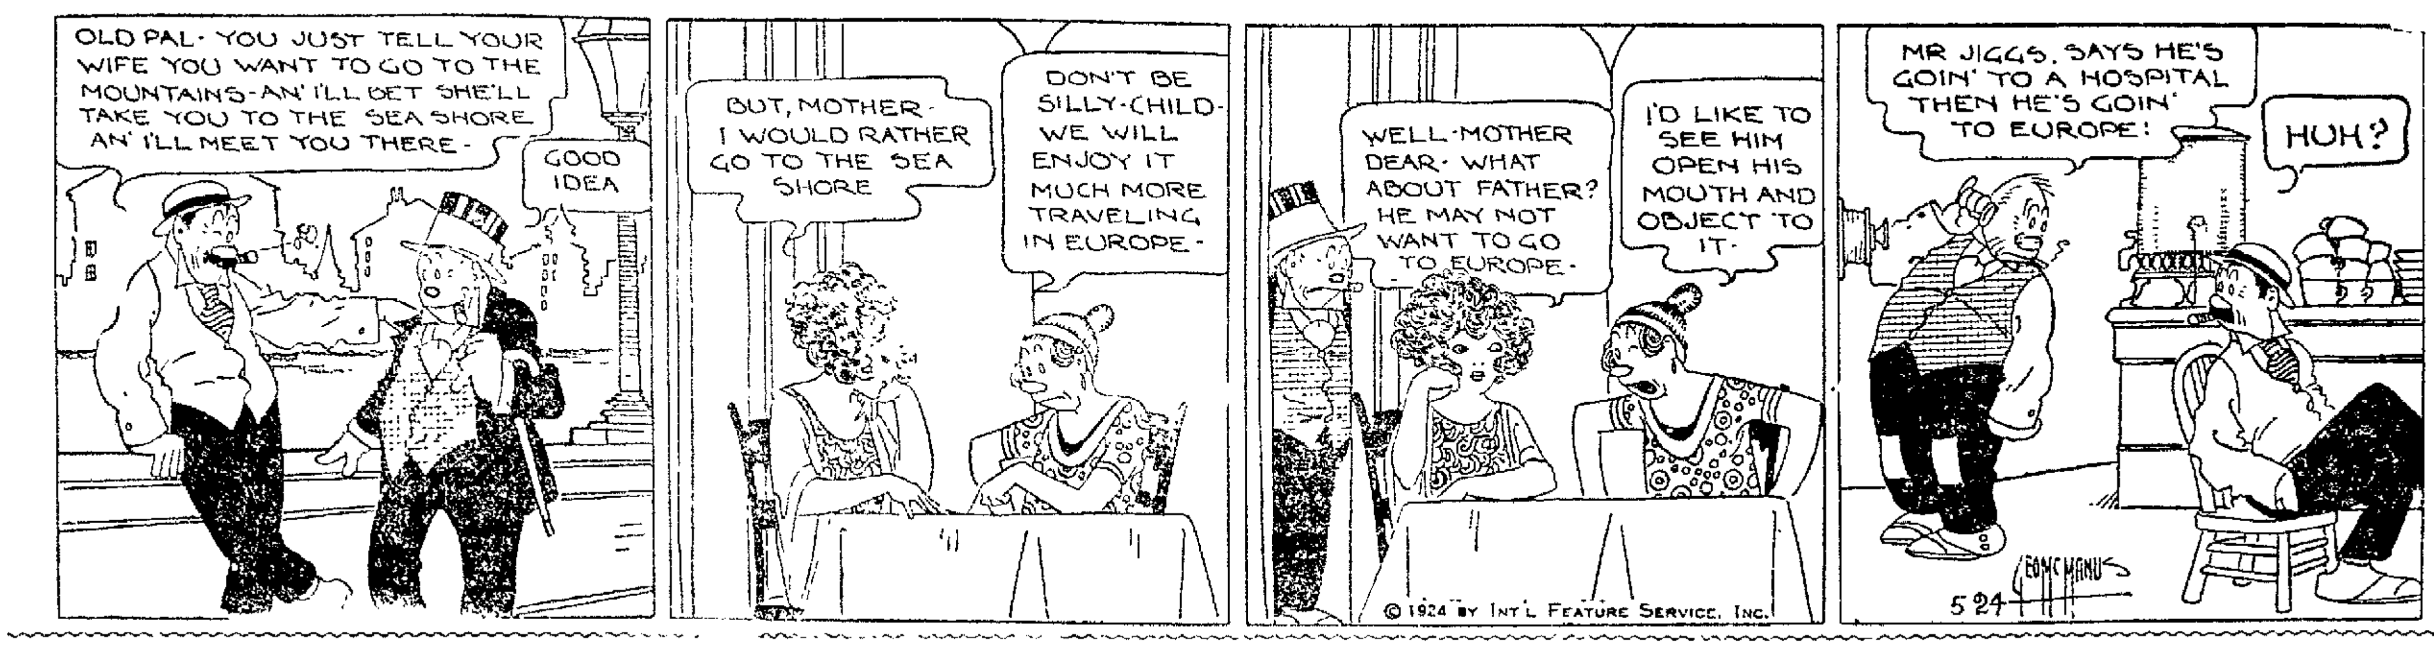

A practice house or model cottage is a part of the general equipment of home economics in all vocational schools of Oregon. Each girl has experience in all the fundamentals of the household—food preparation, house cleaning, laundry, and sewing. The food-preparation classes give the actual experience of buying and preparing for a number of persons. The girls are taught the spending value of the dollar, principles of house decoration, child care, and home nursing.

KOHLER GETS BLANK TO FILE CANDIDACY

COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 24—Blanks for the filing of his candidacy for the Republican nomination for governor have been obtained for former Mayor Fred Kohler, Cleveland, it was announced at the Secretary of State's office here this afternoon.

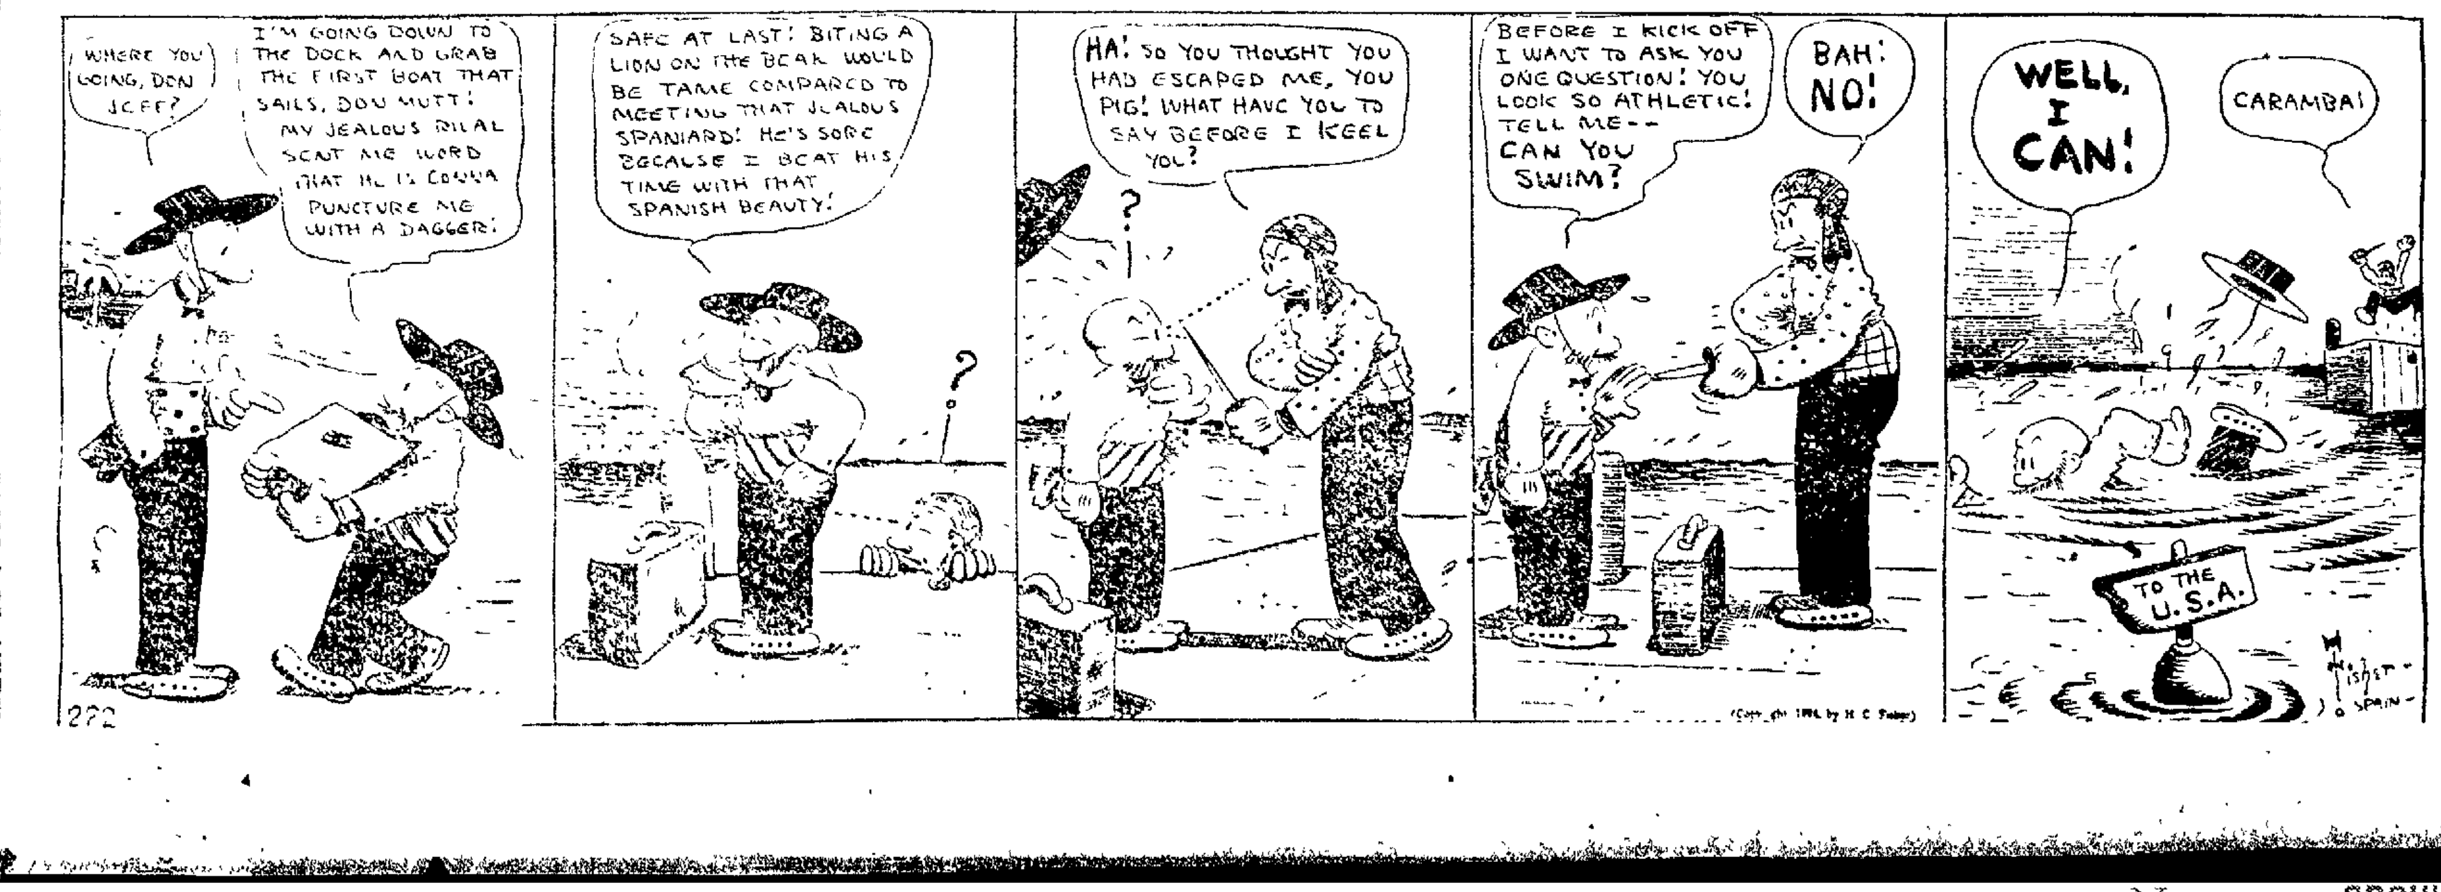

Sixteen thousand additional seats are to be provided for Chicago school children in 1924 by the erection of the 16 buildings now under construction.

ROAD NOTICE OF VIEW AND HEARING

Whereas, John C. Storm and others have petitioned the County Commissioners of Coshocton County, Ohio, for the establishment of a road, beginning at a point known as the Kempf Hill, thence across a narrow field belonging to Henry Miller to a line fence of J. C. Storm and Henry Miller, said road to follow along said line fence on J. C. Storm's land running due east to a road known as the Storm Hill, thence across a narrow strip of land owned by J. C. McClure then again entering the Storm land at a point marked by a stake thence across said field entering upon the land of Henry Grogro, said road to follow along a stone fence, entering the Grogro lane leading to the public road, terminating at a point known as the Grogro mail box.

The said County Commissioners will, on the 25th day of May, 1924 at 10:30 o'clock A. M. meet at the commencement point of said proposed establishment to VIEW and go over the route for the purpose of determining its public importance.

They will also meet on the 3rd day of June, 1924 at 1:30 o'clock P. M., for a FINAL HEARING at the office of said County Commissioners for all persons whose interests would be affected by said improvement and for granting or refusing the improvement.
CHARLES M. DAWSON,
County Auditor.

Eighteen schools of Providence have entered a contest in bringing under-weight pupils up to normal. The progress of each school is indicated by a device showing a miniature race track. Each school is represented by a tiny automobile, which moves forward to correspond with the relative percentage of the pupils who have gained weight. The Providence Co-operative Nutrition Bureau is conducting the contest.

BUCKEYE BREVITIES
Gathered by I. N. S.

TODAY'S BRIGHT SPOT

Defiance cannot certainly be known as the strongarm district these days. Possibly the "sore-arm" area might be applicable. They're recalling there the tough day of youth, which is unusual, since the poets make out that all the days of youth are [illegible] and so on. Just now unusual precautions are being taken against smallpox, and nearly every other youngster in town has a brand new vaccination mark. A number of the oldsters, who missed being vaccinated are wearing them, too. With the vaccination orgy, some of the school boys are inaugurating new medical terms. Jimmy Small announced to his mother recently that he had just had his arm "vulcanized." But medical nomenclature received a real shock when Jane Robertson told her folk what had happened.

"The windshield just came off my hypnotism," said Jane.

DEFIANCE—Congressman C. J. Thompson, Defiance, has filed his petition for renomination in the primaries of August 12 for Republican candidate to the House of Representatives from the fifth congressional district.

NEVADA — Bettie Huff, aged 4, daughter of Mrs. Ray Huff, bit her tongue thru, almost severing it, when the spring on an automobile in which she was riding with J. W. Batchler broke, jouncing her with severe force. A local surgeon stitched the wound and it is hoped that the tongue will unite.

LOGAN—The old Hocking county jail has been sold to a local telephone company for a home and it will shortly be converted into a central office. The $15,000 secured from the sale of the old building will be used to build a new jail in the rear of the new court house.

MIDDLEPORT — Business interests in the Pomery Bend are starting a little investigation of their own into the reason for the long suspension of local coal mines. Operators claim they cannot run in competition with other fields, and the business men are going deeply into the matter.

POMEROY — Joseph Batterson, who claims he doesn't drink, was arrested on the charge of carrying four flasks of liquor into the county jail. He went free because the court did not consider the evidence against him conclusive.

ELYRIA — The divorce case of George T. Barner, and Rosamond Barner, of Cleveland, which was transferred from the Cuyahoga county courts because Mrs. Barner said she could not get a fair trial in Cleveland, is being heard here. Barner is reputed to be wealthy. An alimony settlement was once made out of court. The hearing now is to determine whether Barner, on the original petition, or Mrs. Barner, on the counter-petition is to be granted the divorce. Mrs. Barner, on the witness stand, was highly agitated, and insisted on answering all questions in the utmost detail.

ELYRIA — William Young, four year old son of W. J. Young, was killed under a new tractor his father was driving home when the father stopped to give the boy a ride and in starting up the machine jerked, throwing the youngster under the tractor wheel which passed over his abdomen.

BELLAIRE—Robert C. Myer won the clerkship of the Belmont-co board of elections by the toss of a coin the other day. Meyer, a Democrat who has held office for years, won when a dime was tossed following five tie votes by the board.

MEDINA — The United Dairy Company at Lodi, showing more than 100 per cent increase in business during the past year, will erect a new plant in this city, it has been announced. The present plant replaced one entirely destroyed by fire in 1920.

OTTAWA — Flivvers tested, $13.30. This price schedule has been hung up in court here, after Richard Hornung, 18, who just bot a new Ford declared his willingness to pay that much fine just for the satisfaction of knowing his new machine could speed. The moment he got the car he let it out and officers testified the flivver was hitting 48 miles an hour.

ELYRIA — Major R. E. Hultz, commander of the Elyria unit in the world war which distinguished itself in the field of battle, has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for sheriff. Hultz wears the Distinguished Service Cross.

LIMA—Strangers in Lima recently might well think they had landed in a suburb of Lilliput. By an odd chance a road show arrived in town, carrying a large troup of midgets during the same time when another large troup was playing a vaudeville house. The pocket edition people had a lovely week of it, they said, and the common thing for residents was to meet ten or twenty dwarfs in a city block of walking.

Sterilization is Favored by Presbyterians

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., May 24.—An overture asking that the Presbyterian general assembly, in session here, go on record as favoring the passage by congress of the bill for sterilization and national eugenics, now pending in the lower house, will be submitted, probably Monday, it became known today. The overture will be offered by Judge Royal R. Graham, of Georgetown, Colo., assistant jurist of the juvenile court of that city.

The bill which Judge Garham would have the assembly approve provides for the sterilization of all convicted of criminal assault and provides for medical examination of all men and women before they are married.

"I believe the time for some such action on the part of the assembly has arrived," said Judge Graham, in discussing the proposed overtures, we spend millions annually to insure better propagation of horses, cattle, hogs and flowers and I believe the time has arrived when the Christian people of this country should take steps to make impossible marriages from which issue children who never can be fit for service of any kind."

K. K. K. Raider and Wife Are in No Danger

BELLEVILLE, Ill., May 24—S. Glenn Young, K. K. K. dry raider of Williamson-co, and his wife were reported at St. Elizabeth's hospital today to be out of danger from wounds received yesterday when they were shot by gunmen while driving in a motor car to St. Louis. A charge from a shot gun struck Mrs. Young in the face. Her husband was shot in the right leg, breaking a bone, by a revolver bullet.

According to the story told by Young, a sedan caught up with his car as he neared Okawville and four men opened fire with shot guns and revolvers. The Young car was hit in 15 places. Young has been conducting a series of talks on the Klan in Illinois, and was followed from Marion, his last stopping place. In ducking to avoid the shots, he turned his car sharply and almost drove it over an embankment.

SEVEN DIE IN FLAMES; COP HERO

PONKAPOG, Mass., May 24 — Seven persons perished in a tenement fire here today.

Patrolman Joseph Cunningham discovered the blaze. Smoke was pouring from the building. The officer quickly made his way into the structure.

At the top of the stairs, Cunningham came upon a still form and carried it back into the air. It was Vincent Daltamasio head of one of the families.

Leaving his burden on the ground the officer again groped his way up stairs, this time finding the body of five year old Albert Daltamasio. He carried the boy to the street, and, for the third time, attempted to re-enter the burning building. This time, however, flames were sweeping the stairway and the officer was forced back to the street.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Laclaire, who had been sleeping with their children on second floor, gathered the children together and herded them at a back window.

Laclaire grasped his wife and raised her over the window sill intending to drop her to the ground below. In the last minute attack of fright, she clutched her husband about the neck and the pair tumbled to the ground. Neither was seriously injured.

The bodies of the Laclaire children were later found huddled beneath a window, horribly burned.

Mrs. D. Rentasio, on the other side of the house carrying one of the babies in her arms, had just reached the floor of her bedroom when she was overcome by smoke and fell.

Her body and the body of her child were found later.

SECTION 2

If a person, association of persons, firm or corporation, be engaged in carrying on in the City of Coshocton more than one of said trades, professions, occupations and businesses, such person, association of persons, firm or corporation, shall pay the occupation tax herein levied, for as many of said trades, professions, occupations and businesses as are so carried on; provided that if any person, association of persons, firm or corporation engage in or carry on any of said trades, occupations, professions or businesses at more than one location, in said City, a tax in the amount herein specified shall be levied against such person, association of persons, firm or corporation, for each such location.

SECTION 3

Each and every tax herin provided for shall be payable at the office of the City Treasurer. Upon the payment of such tax to the City Treasurer, the City Auditor shall issue and deliver to such tax payer a certificate, showing (1) the name of the person, association of persons, firm or corporation paying such tax; (2) The amount of the tax paid; (3) The trade, profession, occupation or business carried on for which such tax has been paid; (4) The place at which such trade, profession, occupation or business is carried on.

No certificate showing payment of such occupation tax under the provisions of this ordinance shall be in any manner assignable or transferable, nor shall the trade, profession, occupation or business therein specified be carried on or conducted at a place other than that named in said Certificate, without the written permission of the City Auditor. The City Auditor, at the time of approving such assignment or transfer shall immediately record the same upon his books, together with the change of location. A fee of Fifty (50c) cents shall be charged for each such transfer or assignment, and shall be payable at the time the same is made.

SECTION 4

Every person, association of persons, firm or corporation, carrying on any of said trades, professions, occupations or businesses, shall at all times exhibit in some conspicuous part of the place where such trades, professions, occupations or businesses is carried on, such certificate showing payment of such occupation tax, and shall produce the same, whenever requested so to do by any member of the police department or any other authorized municpal officer.

SECTION 5

That the annual taxes levied in Schedules 1, 2 and 3 hereof shall be payable in semi-annual installments, in advance, between the first and fifteenth days of January and July of each and every year, commencing with July first, 1924.

SECTION 6

If the engaging in or carrying on of any such trade, profession, occupation or business be commenced after the time herein fixed for the payment of such semi-annual payment of tax, the proportion of the tax herein levied for the remainder of such half year period shall be due and payable on the date on which the carrying on of such trades, professions, occupations or businesses is commenced, provided however, that the tax so paid shall in no event be less than one half of the tax levied for such period, and also provided that after the first payment of the semi-annual tax by persons who have commenced in the engaging in or carrying on of trades, professions, occupations or businesses, said payment shall be made between the first and fifteenth days of January and July of each and every year thereafter.

SECTION 7

Whenever any tax payer under any of the provisions of this ordinance shall have ceased to carry on any such trade, profession, occupation or business after the payment of such tax, and before the expiration of the half year period, for which such tax shall have been paid, the City Auditor shall issue to such tax payer a voucher on the City Treasurer for the proportion of such tax from the date of which the carrying on of such trade, profession, occupation or business, ceased, to end of said six months period, such refunder in no event, however, to exceed one-half the amount of tax paid for such half year period.

SECTION 8

For every month or fraction thereof, for which any of such installment of taxes shall remain delinquent after the same shall have become payable, as herein provided, there shall be added to the amount of such tax, a penalty of five per cent, which shall be collected in the same manner as the said tax, but the addition or remitting of the same by the City Auditor, who shall have the power of remitting this penalty, whenever the taxpayer shall show good cause for his failure to pay within the time as prescribed in this ordinance, shall not release the person, association of persons, firm or corporation, from whom, or from which said tax shall be due, from liability to conviction for violating any of the provisions of this ordinance, nor release any order made, or penalty imposed by reason of such conviction.

SECTION 9

The City of Coshocton shall have the right to institute in any court of competent jurisdiction a civil action or actions to recover the amount of any taxes so becoming delinquent, together with all penalties accruing thereon, and neither the recovery by teh City of Judgment for such taxes and penalties, not the satisfaction thereof, shall release such delinquent from liability from conviction for violating any of the provisions of this ordinance, and shall not release such delinquent from any order made or sentence imposed or penalty assessed by reason of any such conviction.

SECTION 10

Any person, association of persons, firm or corporation, carrying on such trade, profession, occupation or business, in said City without having paid the tax herein provided, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined in a sum of not less than Five ($5) dollars, nor more than One Hundred Dollars ($100) for each offense. A conviction thereunder shall not excuse or exempt such person, association of persons, firm or corporation from the payment of any tax or penalty, due and unpaid at the time of such conviction, nor from the liability in any civil action for such delinquent tax and penalty. Each day that any person, association of persons, firm or corporation carries on any such trade, profession, occupation or business, in said City, without having paid the tax herein provided, shall be and constitute a separate violation of this ordinance.

SECTION 11

The word "occupation," as used in this ordinance shall include any and all trades, professions, occupations or businesses pursued, carried on or engaged in in the City of Coshocton.

The word "person" as used in this ordinance, shall include all persons, associations of persons, firms or corporations acting in any trust capacity, including receivers, trustees, guardians, administrators, executors, agents, attorneys in fact, and other representatives.

The word "employee" as used in this ordinance, shall be held to include all natural persons, including minors, employed for pecuniary or other reward in the carrying on of any such trade, profession, occupation or business, whether the reward, salary or wages for such employment be paid on the basis of the time employed or on the basis of piece-work.

The agent or agent of non-resident proprietors engaged in any trade, profession, occupation or business in which a tax is levied in this ordinance on behalf of such non-resident proprietors shall be liable for the taxes levied herein and the penalties thereon, the same as if they were themselves proprietors.

Any person, association of persons, firm or corporation, representing himself or itself or exhibiting any sign or advertisement that he or it is engaged in any trade, profession, occupation or business, on which the tax is levied in this ordinance, shall be deemed to be actually engaged in such trade, profession, occupation, or business, and shall be liable to such tax.

SECTION 12

Whenever the amount of any tax herein levied is based upon the number of employees engaged in such trade, profession, occupation or business, the person, association of persons, firm or corporation, shall at the time such tax becomes payable on blanks provided by the City Auditor, file with the City Auditor a statement, signed by such taxpayer, said statement setting forth the number of employees, employed in carrying on such trade, profession, occupation or business.

The taxes herein levied under this Ordinance do not impose any tax against any employee or employees, nor against any property vehicle, et cetera, of any of the persons, associations, firms or corporations, therein taxed, but the number of employees or measurement of property, number of vehicle, et cetera, is used solely as a unit of measurement to determine the amount of the tax so levied against any such person, association of persons, firm or corporation, for the carrying on of their respective trades, occupations, professions or businesses, or the transacting of the business therein mentioned.

The average number of employees engaged in any such trade, profession, occupation or business within any such half-year tax period, shall for the purpose of this ordinance, be determined by ascertaining the total number of hours of service performed by all employees in such half-year period, and dividing the total number of hours of service thus obtained by the number of hours of service constituting a day's work, according to the custom or laws governing such employment, and again by dividing the quotient thus obtained by the number of days in such half-year period, exclusive of Sundays and Holidays.

SECTION 13

Whenever a permit or examination is required from any department of the City, for the doing of any work, such permit shall not be granted nor issued to a party, nor an examination made for a party, subject to the provisions of this ordinance, unless and until such party shall have paid the tax herein provided for in accordance with the terms of this ordinance.

SECTION 14

Should any section or provision of this ordinance or any tax for carrying on any trade, profession, occupation or business, levied by this ordinance, be decided by the Courts, to be invalid, the same shall not affect the validity of this ordinance as a whole, or any other part thereof other than the particular section or provision of this ordinance or the tax carrying on the particular trade, profession, occupation, or business, so held to be invalid.

SECTION 15

The object of the taxes levied in this ordinance is hereby declared to be to help defray the expenses of the City of Coshocton, and such taxes when collected by the City Treasurer shall be disbursed by him for said purposes in accordance with the laws of the State of Ohio, and the Ordinances of the City of Coshocton, for the disbursement of general taxes.

SECTION 16

That this ordinance and all the provisions thereof, shall be in force and take effect from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

Warm Words Pass During Senate Probe

WASHINGTON, May 23—Police were called to separate Paul Howland, one of the attorneys for Harry M. Daugherty, and Gaston B. Means, former department of justice agent, who became engaged in a heated controversy after today's session of the Wheeler-Brookhart committee.

The combatants were separated before they came to blows.

WASHINGTON, May 23. — An acrimonious row, in which it seemed, at times, that the participants would come to blows, enlivened the session of the Wheeler-Brookhart committee today when it sought to connect Hiram C. Todd, a special assistant attorney general and friend of Harry M. Daugherty, with the theft of Gaston B. Means' famous little black satchel of evidence.

Todd, on the witness stand, spoke his opinion of Senator Burton K. Wheeler, of Montana, in no uncertain manner before the trouble was quieted.

Wheeler and Todd clashed continually, with Senator Brookhart occasionally dipping in to support Wheeler.

The climax of the turbulent session was reached when Brookhart observed that "the only activity of the department of justice under Harry M. Daugherty was trying to get Means and Senator Wheeler."

"I have great respect for indictments in New York and Montana." snapped Todd. (Wheeler is under indictment in Montana charged with "selling" influence.)

"You won't have much respect for the Montana indictment," retorted Wheeler.

"If that's true," interrupted Brookhart, "you are unfit to be special assistant attorney general."

"I've thot all along that you would get me out as prosecutor of Means. I think you're trying to shield Means," said Todd.

"Means is trying to help this committee, as he helped Mr. Howland in the impeachment trial of Daugherty in the house," said Wheeler.

Paul Howland is one of Daugherty's counsel.

"I brand as false that Means ever worked for me," shouted Howland, jumping to his feet.

"We'll prove it," returned Wheeler, also rising.

"I wouldn't hire Means to clean cuspidors," added Howland.

"I hurl that down your teeth."

"You hired Means as a spy."

"I did not and you'd better stop hurling charges at me."

"I'll make all the charges I want."

"Yes, because you are a senator and I am only a poor lawyer, but I'm not under indictment in Montana."

"You are not so poor. You have a rich client," replied Wheeler.

Todd complained because the committee had kept Means from being tried on the pending indictment against him in New York. The trial is now set for June 2 he said.

"You'll have Means on June 2," assured Wheeler.

"Did you have public detectives watch Means?" asked Wheeler.

"Yes. They started after Means said he couldn't appear in court. He was trying to delay his trial by lying."

"Why do you say he lied when three doctors, including your own, said he couldn't go to trial?"

"Senator, your speech in favor of Means is better than that by his attorneys in New York. He only had three teeth pulled."

"Didn't you know he had part of his jaw bone extracted?"

"It's my impression that part of the jaw bone comes out when three teeth are pulled."

"It's certain that you haven't had part of your jaw extracted," interposed Senator Ashurst.

"Why did you stop the shadowing on April 1, the day after Means' papers were taken?" asked Wheeler.

"I didn't."

"Did you write a letter to Attorney General Daugherty asking Petit and O'Brien to get Means' papers?" asked Brookhart.

"I did not. I never heard of O'Brien or Petit or Mr. and Mrs. Duckstein and I've never seen Means' papers," replied Todd.

"I'll tell you what Means did on March 31," continued Todd, "for there was an agent at the rear and front of his house all that day.

"Means said that at 6:25 o'clock that night two sergeants-at-arms of the senate came to his house and said they wanted the papers for the committee.

"Two men did not go to his house that day, for Agents Burress and Young were watching his house.

"Means' papers were never stolen. That is just another fairy tale, like the other ones he has been telling before this committee."
